will be merely a preliminary meeting." Mr. Hughes was asked about the rumor that there would be strong political influences brought to bear on the committee as to what directions the investigation would take.

"Not at all," said he. "This is not a prosecuting body. Upon the facts we get through this investigation will be based recommendations which will advance both the insurance business and the interests of policyholders." When Chairman Paul Morton of the Equitable heard of Mr. Hughes's remarks

he said;

CHILDREN NOT SENT TO SERFDOM. Officers of Charitable Societies Deny Stories From the Northwest.

The assertions of Supt. Hall of the North Dakota Children's Home at Fargo and other officers of charitable institutions in the Northwest that orphans sent to that section of the country from this city were doomed to drudgery that would amount practically to serfdom brought forth denials yesterday from the representatives of nearly all the leading organizations which sent children to homes outside of this city.

Louis Kahn of the Jewish Agricultural nd Industrial Aid Society, who has just eturned from a tour of inspection in North Dakota, said:

"I have been visiting the Russian Jewish farmers in the State, many of whom I know. have personal knowledge that these Russians are not bringing orphan children into their families, for they all have large families themselves and are too poor to add other children to their households. think the statements cannot possibly

I think the statements cannot possibly be true."

Other denials of any knowledge of such conditions were made by representatives of the Charity Organization Society, the Association for the Improvement of the Poor, the Children's Aid Society, the Catholic Home Bureau, the United Hebrew Charities, the Industrial Removal Office, the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Society and the Catholic Foundling Asylum. All declared that they sent their charges only to homes where the recipients were well able to care for the children. The different organizations assert that they maintain inspectors for the express purpose of visiting these homes and seeing that the children are being properly treated and educated. Should a child be displeased with his or her lot, they say, he is immediately removed to more congenial surroundings.

SULTAN OF SULU'S GIFT TO THE PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER.

Invites Her to Remain in His Kingdom Gift of a Saddle for Secretary Taft -Moros Give the American Visitors an Enthusiastic Reception to Their Home.

Manila, Aug. 23.-News from the southern islands shows that Secretary Taft and his party are having a great reception. Particulars of their welcome to the dominions of the Sultan of Sulu have been received here. The young Sultan was so taken with the enthusiasm shown by Miss Alice Roosevelt that he invited her to remain forever. The President's daughter thanked his Majesty, but told him that, much as she was enjoying her visit to his islands, she would be obliged to return to her family.

took place last Friday in a field outside the walls of Jolo. The American party was escorted thither by a battalion of the Twentieth Infantry, a squadron of the Fourteenth Cavalry and the Twenty-eighth Battery of field artillery. In the field 8,000 gaudily attired Moros had assembled, hundreds of them rounted on decorated ponies.

The Sultan of Sulu, dressed in a shabby frock coat, attended by his Ministers and accompanied by armed umbrella bearers, rode into the arena and greeted Secretary Taft. The Congressmen and ladies of the party jostled one another in their anxiety to shake hands with his Majesty. For two hours the Americans were entertained with a program of native sports, including a spear dance and a bull fight. They were then taken for a drive through exquisite coconut groves.

In the evening there was a ball at the Army Club. The Sultan attended it, arrayed in a golden and bejeweled coat and attended by a hundred armed retainers. The monarch, through his Prime Minister, presented a pink pearl to Miss Roosevelt and a saddle to Secretary Taft. The chief dattos also gave presents, Miss Roosevelt receiving from them three pearls and a decorated saddle and Secretary Taft a collection of bolos and whips.

The party sailed at daylight on Satur day and arrived at Malabang at daylight the next morning. Secretary Taft, Miss Roosevelt and the Misses Boardman and McMillan, accompanied by several Congressmen, went by trail to the town of Iligan and arrived at noon, after an interesting trip. All the party are well.

BERLIN, Aug. 23.-J. B. Roth, who was staying with his father-in-law, a Mr. Odell, at the Hotel Bristol, strolled on Sunday up the Friedrichsstrasse and encountered three strangers. He visited saloons in their company and afterward went in a cab with them to Schoenholz, a heath in North Berlin. The coachman. becoming suspicious, stopped at a nearby restaurant, the landlord of which conveyed Roth to the Hotel Bristol.

Meanwhile the strangers had disappeared taking Roth's money, amounting to several thousand dollars, and his jewelry. Roth bribed the porter till his father-in-law and he left Berlin on Monday.

To-day the landlord went to a jeweler's to appraise two rings the American had left for an unpaid bill and met two of the trio who had robbed Roth. He caused their arrest. One was wearing Roth's scarfpin. The other was carrying his cane. Both confessed the robbery. The third man has not been caught. Presumably he has Roth's checkbook, watch, money and jewels.

While working in Greenwood Cemetery yesterday, Anthony Smith of 140 Twentieth street, Brooklyn, noticed the body of a woman in Sylvan Lake, near the Fifth avenue side of the cemetery. Her attire indicated that she was in half mourning. She wore a black skirt, a black and white shirt waist.

a black skirt, a black and white shirt waist, black gloves and a black bonnet. Among her effects were a black parasol, gold rimmed spectacles, a plain gold ring, a gold ring set with an amethyst, a gold breastpin containing a large black stone, and a purse containing five cents.

The body apparently had not been in the lake more than a day. As no one saw her go to her death it is not known whether it was a case of accident or suicide. The police incline to the belief that the woman lingered until late at the grave of a relative yesterday, and walked into the lake in making her way to the main entrance on Fifth avenue. The body was removed to Fifth avenue. The body was removed to the morgue.

"Has this fellow ever been in trouble before?" he asked the Alderman.

"No, your Honor," replied Richter. "Of course he has been arrested a number of times, but always honorably discharged."

Then, as the Magistrate began to smile, he added, "You see he has bad feet and can't get away like the rest of them."

Much Dress, Too Little Ged. The Rev. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, evangelist, of London, and Charles Alexander, revival singer, sailed yesterday for Liverpool aboard the White Star liner Baltic. Dr. Morgan said he deplored the conversion of American churches into social organizations. He said this was due to the failure of business men in the church to do their duty; they had lost track of the true way

The Toledo II., A. Poy Knabenshue's airship, made a second successful attempt yesterday afternoon to navigate the aerial ocean above the city. Starting from the vacant lot at Sixty-second street and Central Park West at 2:14 in the afternoon, he went south as far as the Flatiron Building and without trouble. All the morning the crowd gathered about the tent set up in the vacant lot on the Sixty-second street corner, and when driven out by the police pressed close about the fence with eyes glued to the cracks like the small boy at a ball game. The reserves of five precincte and a large squad of mounted men surrounded the place to prevent a recurrence of the scenes of last Sunday. but they were helpless in the crowd that Before getting under way in the airship Knabenshue made a trip downtown in an auto to learn a bit about New York's geography. Last Sunday he mistook the Times Building for the Flatiron, which he had intended to circle, and he meant to make no mistake on the second trial.

The airship rose straight in the air for some distance and then turned west and

Automobiles, cabe; delivery wagons and all kinds and conditions of vehicles followed the course of the Toledo II. and the housetops and roofs of the office buildings were black with people staring at this strange ship of the heavens.

The wind was from the west, blowing six miles an hour, and the Toledo II. made a great deal of leeway, drifting as far east as Second avenue. As the airship neared Twenty-third street Knabenshue turned her prow again toward Broadway and her prow again toward Broadway and began his flight to windward. For a time the Toledo seemed to make little headway against the air current, but presently Kna-benshue let her head fall away until, at a slight angle to the direction of the wind, she began to forge shead. In several long tacks Knabenshue worked enough to windward to be directly over the Flatiron.
